BULLET IN HIS HEART.

Soldier Wounded 35 Years Ago Has Just Died.

William H. Smalridge, who died at his home on French Creek, West Virginia, October 22, carried a bullet in his heart for thirty-five years.

On September 1, 1861 Mr. Smalridge was fired at from a snail, and a bullet striking him on the lower point of the scapula, on the left side, passing through the lung into the ventricle of the heart, about its center. The force of the bullet was so broken by the time it reached the heart that it failed to penetrate the wall opposite the ventricle and dropped into the cavity, where Smalridge carried it until the post mortem examination.

HE WON.

Dewey's Witty Answer to a Familiar Stranger.

Since Admiral Dewey became so famous he has been much sought after by entertaining Americans and men who know him when he was "knee high to a grasshopper." Not long ago one of these persons, sent to Manila on a special mission by a New York museum man, approached the Admiral on the street and addressing him familiarly extended his hand. Admiral Dewey stopped, smiled, but remained silent. "But let you not be so reticent," observed the stranger, somewhat abashed. The Admiral smiled again, took the stranger in with a sweeping glance from head to foot, and then, with a merry twinkle said: "You win! That ended the interview."

A Sure Sign of Group.

Homesickness in a child that is subject to group is a sure indication of the approach of the disease. If Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is given as soon as the child becomes homesick, or even after the coughy cough has appeared, it will prevent the attack. Many mothers who have group children always keep this remedy at hand and find that it saves them much trouble and worry. It can always be depended upon and is pleasant to take. For sale by A. B. Fisher, Cloverport; R. A. Stellan, Stephentown.

WOMAN IN INDIA.

How She is Regarded By The Male Sex.

The present position of women, in India, cannot be better shown than by the extracts from a Government prize book for the girls' schools in the Bombay Presidency, says the Church Outlook. "If the husband of a virtuous woman be ugly, of good or bad disposition, diseased, or infirm, or a drunkard, old, stupid, dumb, blind, deaf, hot-tempered, poor, extremely covetous, a slanderer, cowardly, perfidious and immoral, nevertheless she must respect him as a god, with mild speech and affection. The wife who gives an angry answer to her husband will become a village pariah; she will also become a female lecher and live in an unbecomingly dress. The woman who eats sweetmeats without sharing them with her husband will become a hen-cow, living in a hollow tree. The woman who walks alone without her husband will become a filthy-eating village sow, who speaks disrespectfully to her husband will be dumb in the next incarnation. The woman who hates her husband's relatives will become, from birth to birth, a muskrat, living in dirt."

It Hits the Spot.

When suffering from a severe cold and your throat and lungs feel sore, take a dose of Foley's Kidney and Bladder Pills. When the sore throat is at once relieved, the warm, grateful feeling and healing of the parts affected will be experienced and you will say: "It feels so good. It hits the spot." It is guaranteed.—A. AMUSING METHODS.

How Some People Get Rid of Unwelcome Guests.

"The Ohio host," says a correspondent of the Rochester Post-Express, "wearied out of all endurance by the persistency of his guest, chose as his medium the family prayer after breakfast, and said: 'O Lord, bless our visiting brother, who will leave us on the 10 o'clock train this morning.' I prefer the subtler and more reverent method of another Ohioan, the father of William Dean Howells, the novelist. His practice was, when a visitor had worn out his welcome, to be called away on business and to say to his guest: 'I suppose you will not be here when I return, so I will wish you good-bye.' Heavily and highly appreciated by the boys was the formula used by Dr. Vaughan, when a head master of Harrow school, he had to entertain the latest boarder in the school in his bed at breakfast. Commiserating the painfulness of the lady who did not know how to leave and yet wanted to do so, the doctor would say—'suppose of nothing. Must you go? Can't you stay?' This was the signal for departure. I admire very heartily the transposition of a distinguished statesman, who in telling this story, gave the formula as 'Can't you go? Must you stay?' A fellow-feeling makes one wonderous kind to this revised version."

CASTORIA.

The Kind Yet New Remedy Bought of Castoria.

WEALTHY RED MEN.

Osage Indians Love to Idle, Sing and Dance.

They Are The Richest People on the Earth.

The Osage Indians are probably the wealthiest people per capita on earth, are aristocrats and own manual labor, according to Gen. Pollock's annual report to the Interior Department. They own over eight hundred acres of land for each man woman and child, each receiving an annuity of over two hundred dollars in cash. As an illustration, if an Indian and his wife have eight children the annual cash income of the family is over $2,000. Rather leading his white brother at the point, he prefers the convenience of horses and disposition of village life to agricultural avocations; he lives to sing and dance, and he has plenty of money to support his family in idleness. Indian Agent Sweeney, of the Crow Creek reports that a serious nuisance and detriment to progress, to correct which agents would have to cooperate, is inter-tribal visiting, demoralizing to the Indians, encouraging idleness and nomadic habits, abandonment of the property, reckless distribution of property presents, and neglect of stock. Action to minimize this nuisance is urged.

Captain Corah, of the United States Army Agency in Utah, complains in his report that there has never been any settlement of the claim of Ute country on the White River and Southern Ute on account of the creation of about 8,000,000 acres of land to the United States under a treaty of 1903, in consideration of certain benefits.

The treaty required that the land should be subjected to cash entry only, and that the proceeds, after reimbursement to the United States for some appropriated and set aside in the Ute act and paying for lands which might be ceded to the Ute by the United States outside of the reservation at $1.25 per acre, should be deposited to their credit in the treasury, the interest payable to the Ute annually with the rest of their annuity money. This claim has not been settled, and no statement made as to the amount of money collected for this land. The agent says:

It does not appear that the United States has ceded any lands outside of their reservation. If the late Uncompagnie Reservation is considered to have been so ceded it has practically again been absorbed by the United States. It believes the Government has appropriated from this Colorado land a large timber reserve, for which, it seems to me, the Indians are justly entitled to pay. The matter should be carefully investigated.

The denial of the rights of these Indians to have their lands reserved, in accordance with the Colorado game laws, is complained of as an injustice and violation of their treaty rights, and the agent recommends securing through Congress some compensation for loss of the right.

EIGHT PAGES.

This weather is just about as changeable as a woman's mind.

If you want a woman to keep a secret don't tell her to keep it to herself.

According to the small boy, time gets as big as wagon more on itself along about Christmas time.

More things ornamental seem expensive until they come to us in the guise of Christmas gifts.

Is "gentleman Jim" Corbett the gentlemanly pick pocket the daily papers mention so frequently?

If all the people who danced would pay the piper, there would not be so many cases in the bankruptcy courts.

Destruction may not be written upon the face of the young lady who sees ronge on her cheeks, but it is painted there.

"I want to be an angel,"
My soul forever sings.
The house it lives in is now a good enough,
But it wants one built with wings.

Now that Uncle Sam has the Philippine elephant on his hands he may be compelled to work over time to appease his cries for "more pay."

It is announced that the work of the Behring sea commission is nearing completion. So is the work of the Behring sea seal exterminators.

Tennessee's anti-cigarette law has been declared constitutional. In other words the cigarette, in Tennessee, has been declared unconstitutional.

Romeo and Japan are going around with chips on their shoulders but it's a case, apparently, of one being "sneered" and the other "dashed."

A HAVENWILE paper has let the secret out of the bag. It says the people of that town are contented and contentment, we are told, is death to enterprise.

UNCLE SAM should put down the insurrection in his own army rather than undertake the task of putting down the insurrection in Cuba and the Philippines.

MUCH of the drunkenness prevalent in Cloverport may be attributed to the fact that several of her citizens drink for the shakes and then shake for the drink.

This collection of musical instruments presented the Ann Arbor, Mich., University by a Detroit millionaire, does not include J. Ham Lewis' grand piano and white.

The reason why some Cloverport men have never reached the top round of the ladder of fame is because they have always been content to let well enough alone.

The Courier-Journal says: "Spain yields to circumstances." To the uninitiated we desire to state that "circumstances" is another one of Uncle Sam's many aliases.

A POLYGRAPH was elected to Congress in Utah by women who enjoyed the right of suffrage. This goes to prove that a marrying man is very popular, with the ladies.

CHAIRMAN GRANGER, of Louisville Board of Public Works, by his act declared that he is bigger than the people of Louisville. Mr. Granger is toying with the buzz saw.

JOHN FUSIS, the New York man who won three wives and three divorce suits during his matrimonial career, showed a disposition to rush in where angels would fear to tread.

The fact that the good die young does not prevent the small boy from being an unusually pious Sunday School scholar for a period of three weeks before the Christmas tree blooms.

One crosses would be just as hard to bear if we were permitted to select them for ourselves, but there would be less complaining as but few of us would confess to errors of judgment.

CLOVERPORT girls have claimed the beards of the town as "warm numbers" and "ice men." It is in accordance with the fashions of things that the latter are given the "frozen mitt" on all occasions.

The possession of colonies in the islands of the sea will force the "open door" policy upon the United States. Should McKinley, or any other protectionist, try to close it he will inevitably get his fingers crushed between the door and the latch.

BE INDEPENDENT.

One Irvington correspondent says some good things that are worthy of the editorial column. Here is one fine thought.

"Civilized independence of thought and speech and loyal to conviction, but without offense to the line that our opinion must respect. We must associate ourselves to condemn a dangerous opinion in respect to every day topics. In politics, science and a hundred cases of common sense and duty, and have a right to differ. It is a noblest privilege for a man or woman to differ and a way of thinking for a universal standard that prevents and petty prejudices all the way."

HE WANTS CHANGE.

The La Rue county Herald, speaking of Gus Richardson's personal candidacy says:

"Hon. Gus W. Richardson, of Meade county, is making the race for Secretary of State this time. Mr. Richardson does not believe in monetary and other changes in his office—or attempts to 'cut year'."

SPAIN FIELDS.

Spain has acceded to every demand of the United States. She has granted this country title to the Philippines, Porto Rico, Guam and has relinquished authority over Cuba. This last territory now belongs to us. It will open up a vast field for American statesmanship and enterprise and will add a world of responsibility to our citizenship. We are not yet out of the woods.

WE ARE TRULY THANKFUL.

This bunch of poems comes from the Louisville Post:

"The Thanksgiving editorial in the Breckenridge News was one of the ablest and best written that was ever printed in that always excellent country publication. It was creditable to the writer, Editor Goodnight, and the News, which serves its readers nothing but the best in the new line."

MAY IT COME TO PASS.

GERMANY wants the Sulu Islands. They have been ceded to us by Spain. The other day some Englishmen were converted into soap and figured as the chief d'oeuvre of a cannibal feast enjoyed by the Sulu Islanders. Here's hoping that Englisher Billy Robinson will visit the Sulu Islands in an effort to capture them. And here's hoping, too, that he may fill the same tureen in which the Englishmen were boiled.

THE MODERN KNIGHT.

(Paper published by the Breckenridge Association at Irvington by Ed Goodnight. Published by the Breckenridge Association.)

Twas the almoner of Charity. It has been good to the past. As it swings its magic wand the busy income of forgetful days arises to form a mystic veil between today and yesterday. The twilight of the dead years, with the gleam of romance and tradition, adorns the tragic vista of the age of force and transfigures its sacrificial ceremonies, with the halo of glory.

The knightly tournaments, with the warring tides of blood, whose rib and bow determined the fate of nations, were the academies of the age of force. At the late the generations of men whose albinos were "right make right" learned the lore of murder and their era is rightly called the "dark ages."

The age of chivalry, as seen through the veil of romance and tradition, seems an heroic one and its ideals, as exemplified in the Lion-Hearted Richard and that dower of chivalry, the knightly loyalty, appeal to all lovers of deeds that flower.

The heroes who sat around King Arthur's Round Table left but little to posterity. It seems as if to be measured by the results of the age of chivalry, its ideals, and its tendencies, are failures, and it is indeed charitable in old Father Time to sweep the past with a veil that hides a multitude of sins.

The nineteenth century, with its utilitarian tendencies and practically, seems intensely realistic, but it is, really, the most heroic age of the world's history. Force has abdicated in favor of reason. The hero of today must conform to a larger standard of integrity and to a higher conception of nobility than ever before. To be entitled to a place at the modern round table a man must be a hero of the Christy type, and a hero of that character approaches the totality of human perfection.

Christ was the greatest teacher. The lessons contained in the Sermon on the Mount were the greatest ever taught to children of men. They form the ideals of this age, and their potentialities are shaping the ends of destiny. The lessons contained in the Sermon on the Mount exemplify the spirit that forms the foundation of the true social democracy. It seems as though they furnished the inspiration of the construction of this government, the best that has ever been born of human wisdom. The perpetuation of this government and the realization of its ideals of liberty depend upon intelligence. Its growth in majesty and power will be in proportion to the wisdom of its integrity. The school-house is the foundation of the moral and political structure of this country. Within its walls the future citizen is taught the worth of numbers and the meaning of words. His mind is so developed that he can realize the dignity of sovereignty as it is represented by the right of franchise, the right that gives him the prerogative of a king. He is taught lessons that fit him for the exalted duties of citizenship.

Thus we see that the school teacher is the architect of patriotism. With the skill of the master craftsman he utilizes the square and compasses of knowledge and experience to make the material of the world's wealth of the school-house fit the grooves and ridges of the structure that forms the body politic.

The power that is in the grasp of the teacher and the responsibilities that devolve upon him give him great power and a great dignity. It is very nobly makes him the priest of liberty for it is through his instrumentality that the embryonic child of the nation is taught the worth of its heritage of freedom.

The teacher is awakening to these facts and more and more, each year, the expansion of his mental and moral stature fits him for the consecrated duties of his profession. our institutions and will make the school houses and its presiding genius a permanent fixture. Tyranny and the despotism of kings can only exist where ignorance hold sway. Ignorance is the parent of the brood of passions that make the age of chivalry a carnival of blood. It is the parent of bigotry, prejudice and degeneracy, a trinity of evil whose sway brings inhumanity to the level of beasts. The school teacher is the modern knight who, separating the cause of universal education is constantly in the line battling the evil incarnated in ignorance. His victories are the victories of heaven, over Cuba. This last territory now belongs to us. It will open up a vast field for American statesmanship and enterprise and will add a world of responsibility to our citizenship. We are not yet out of the woods.

BRECKENRIDGE NEWS.

WEDNESDAY NOV. 30, 1898.

HIDING HIMSELF

From the Gay and Festive Microbe is This German.

The oddest domicile on earth is that recently erected by an eminent German bacteriologist. It is a microbe-proof house, built of glass blocks. There are no windows, sashes, and the doors when closed are airtight. The air supply is forced into the room through a pipe, and filtered through cotton wool to cleanse it of bacteria. To insure further sterilization the air is driven against a glycerine-coated plate of glass, which captures all the microbes that the wool passes. The few microbes brought into the house in the clothes of visitors soon die in the warm sunlight with which the house is flooded. The space between the glass blocks, of which the house is built, is filled with a solution of salts which absorbs the heat of the sun, so that the rooms are much cooler than those protected by the thickest shades. In the evening the interior is heated by the salts radiating the heat they have absorbed during the day.

If you are suffering from drowsiness in the day time, irritability of temper, sleepless nights, general debility, headache, and general want of tone of the system, use HERRIN'S. You will get relief and finally a cure. Price 50 cts.—A. R. Fisher.

Marvels of a Graphophone.

One of the wonders of the end of the century is the home Graphophone, that will reproduce any kind of music, or any sound. One can arrange a full program of the most attractive band, orchestral or vocal music and vary it every evening. On the Graphophone one can record the human voice or any sound, and reproduce it at once. You can keep the voices of your friends to be heard whenever you wish. Graphophones made for home entertainment can be bought for as low as $10. Write for catalogue 30 to the COLUMBIA PHONOGRAPH CO., No. 919 Pennsylvania Ave., Washington, D. C.

FEARFUL BATTLE.

Dragon Flies Almost Annihilate a Ship's Crew.

Saved From Death by a Flock of Hungry Birds.

The British steamship Kensington, en route from Surabaya, a port in Java, while in the Indian Ocean, ran into a vast field of seaweed. These weeds were the home of a large and voracious species of the dragon fly.

Attracted by the fumes of the steam the flies swarmed upon the decks in millions.

Thousands of them pounced on the hold and feasted upon the sugar. Thousands were upon the decks, seeking to get below. Big enough to do mischief they got savage and attacked the crew. Captain Langrell had thirty-two men, and they had the battle of their lives. The flies could not be driven off.

Their bite was something awful, Capt. Langrell said, and it was not long before the body of each man of the crew was a mass of blood.

This terrible pest of flies lasted for five days. Then far up in the sky the dragon flies were seen. They had scouted their ancient enemy, and just as the steam was directly under them they swooped down. These birds of the sea resemble a dove, but are many times larger. They have long tails and sharp beaks.

Against the crew's timely rescuers the flies had no chance. They were eaten by the birds as quickly as a fly of a barnyard fly disposed of their daily meal of corn, and soon there was not enough of the flies to cause further trouble.

From slipping down to cabin boy all bear traces of their terrible experience with the vicious dragon fly.

From New Zealand.

Reefers, New Zealand, Nov. 23 1898. I am very pleased to state that since I took the agency of Chamberlain's medicine the sale has been very large, more especially of the Cough Remedy. In two years I have sold more of this particular remedy than of all other makes of the previous five years. As to its efficacy, I have been informed by scores of persons of the good results they have received from it, and know its value from the use of it in my own household. It is so pleasant to take that we have to place the bottle beside the reach of the children.

MYSTERY SOLVED.

The Fate of Lost Pine Has Been Determined.

Every individual who lives to grow up has in his possibility asked, at some time in his life, what becomes of all the pine that is manufactured and lost. An old gentleman in London has prepared himself to answer the question. By a series of experiments conducted in his back garden he has discovered that they go the way of all flesh and are resolved into dust. This, which he watched for six days, disappeared at the end of that time, having resolved into a brown dust, a brownish mist which was blown away by wind as it formed; bright pins took nearly eighteen months to disappear; polished steel needles nearly two years and a half; brass pins but little endurance; steel pens at the end of fifteen months had nearly gone while their wooden holders were still intact. Pencils, with which he experimented, suffered little by exposure; the lead was unharmed, and the cedar almost as good as new; but their nibs had been eroded. The question about pencils, and he might have spared himself his pains.

SAVED OUR LIFE.

Do Not Neglect the Kidneys and Bladder.

Disorder of these important organs causes Bright's disease, rheumatism, pain in the back, dropsy and other troubles. Disease sometimes gets a hold upon your kidneys and bladder before you realize that anything serious is the matter. Often these organs are neglected until that awful malady, Bright's disease, has fastened upon you, and death awaits its victim. Many miraculous cures have been wrought by a course of treatment with Dr. Davis' Kidney Tablets. These tablets are put up in the shape of a kidney bean, and the formula has been pronounced by the best physicians of modern times to be the most direct in action on the kidneys of any remedy known to medical science. You can eat these tablets as you would candy, and feel free booklet on kidney disease. Sold by all druggists, or sent on receipt of price 50 cents and $1.

Foreigners invited into Korea.

The Korean government has officially announced its intention of opening four new ports, and of adding 100,000 square meters of land at Fusan, near Seoul in the land. The proposed new ports are Nung Chio, on the Northeast coast; Kaha San, on the North China Province, on the Southwest coast; Masung, on the South coast, near Fusan, and the southern capital, Pong Yang.

THINGS TO REMEMBER.

Fine feathers often make sorry jailbirds.

The boy with made-over trousers takes after his father.

It is the silent man that is usually worst listening to.

Fatal solives every time he sees two men trying to trade horses.

A snail in the hands of the hold-up man is a stunning affair.

The scorching evidently believes in putting his shoulder to the wheel.

A fashionable showman says that women can endure pain better than men.

When a man is resigned to his fate the resignation is usually accepted.

The coming woman sometimes has her troubles with the going man about 11 p. m.

Whatever prevails is called truth—the rule of the majority counts for anything.

A cheap coat doesn't necessarily make a cheap man, but it makes him feel that way at times.

Truth is stranger than fiction to most people, probably because they don't care for an introduction.

Most youngsters of the present day learn so rapidly that it is almost impossible for the high schools to keep up with them.

The Best Plaster.

A piece of flannel dampened with Chamberlain's Pain Balm and bound on to the sore part is superior to any plaster. When troubled with a pain in the chest or side, or a lame back, give it a trial. You are certain to be more than pleased with prompt relief which it affords. Pain Balm is also a certain cure for rheumatism. For sale by A. R. Fisher, Cloverport; R. A. Sheilman, Stephentown.

THE WESTERN HORSEMAN, published at Indianapolis, Indiana, at $2.00 a year, and issued every Friday, stands at the head of "Hunt and Trail" and "Pacing horse" journals, is handsomely illustrated with pictures of noted horses and gives all the horse news from California to Maine. If at all interested in trotters or pacers subscribe for it. The great annual Souvenir number will be issued February 10, and will be worth more than the price of a year's subscription. It goes free to all subscribers, and others 25 cents per copy. By special arrangement with the publishers we are enabled to send the WESTERN HORSEMAN, $2.00 per year, and the Bazaar Souvenir News $1.00 per year, both for $3.00 during the year 1899. SEA BATHING.

How to Indulge in It to Produce the Maximum Benefit.

The length of time one should remain in the water depends first, upon the temperature of the water, and second, upon the condition of the individual. The New York Times says: If the water is quite cold and the individual feels a dip lasting not more than one or two minutes will be sufficient to produce the maximum of benefit. A longer stay would prove exhausting and injurious. A person who is stronger may endure the same temperature for five or ten minutes without disadvantage. Persons would care to remain in water at 70 degrees for longer than the time named and would probably be injured by more than a hasty dip beneath the surface.

Fifteen to 30 minutes is as long as most persons can remain in the water with benefit, except perhaps on the very warm days when the temperature of the water approaches more nearly that of the body. The sensations experienced upon coming from the water are a very excellent guide to the duration of the bath. A feeling of well being, buoyancy and increased vigor is an indication that the bath has been beneficial. A sensation of malaise, languor or headache, prolonged shivering and weakness are evidence that the bath has been too greatly prolonged. Neglect to regulate the bath according to the temperature of the water, the temperature of the air and the patient's condition deprives a large number of people of the benefits they might otherwise derive from sea bathing.

We may also mention incidentally that those persons who resort to sea bathing for the benefit of health are not likely to derive very much benefit therefrom without at the same time correcting erroneous habits of diet, dress and other unhygienic practices which may be, more than any other cause, responsible for the diseased conditions from which they suffer.
